MAP

An aerial photograph showing a large industrial complex with several large, flat-roofed buildings. The buildings are mostly white and grey, with some showing signs of wear and discoloration on the roofs. There are several HVAC units and other rooftop equipment. In the background, a residential neighborhood with houses and trees is visible. A street runs along the bottom of the industrial area, with some parked cars and a white van. The overall scene is a mix of industrial and suburban environments.
