A RARE STAND ALONE BUILDING WITH PARKING CLOSE TO DOWNTOWN

1017 Park Blvd sits in Boise's coveted East End, fronting the Boise River Greenbelt — roughly 25 miles of continuous riverside path that links downtown, Boise State University, Julia Davis Park, and the foothills. Few commercial addresses in the valley can claim walking access to the greenbelt paired with this level of in-city access.

The site is essentially adjacent to the MK Nature Center and St Luke's Lab Services and one mile to St Luke's Boise Medical center and about a half-mile from Boise State University and Albertsons Stadium. Downtown Boise, with its restaurants, the Grove, Boise Centre, and the cultural district, is roughly a mile and a half northwest — a five-minute drive or an easy bike ride along the river. Boise Airport is about nine miles south.

WHY BOISE'S EAST END

The East End blends mature tree-lined neighborhoods, university energy, and riverfront recreation. Daytime population is anchored by Boise State (±25,000 students) and a steady flow of Greenbelt users, while the surrounding residential base supports neighborhood-serving commercial demand — medical, office, and personal services. Boise's 2023 Modern Zoning Code and continued in-migration are tightening the supply of well-located, already-improved commercial space, making turnkey infill like this increasingly scarce.

WHY IT MATTERS FOR 1017 PARK BLVD

A stabilized, supply-constrained market — paired with a scarce riverfront East End position, existing commercial improvements, and direct Greenbelt and Boise State adjacency — creates a durable window for an owner-user or investor to acquire an in-place, income-capable asset in one of the fastest-growing metros in the country.

±2,225 SF TURNKEY BUILDING

- Boise MSA office vacancy of about 8% runs far below the ±19% national average, with office rents up roughly 4% per year over the past five years (PwC / ULI, Emerging Trends in Real Estate 2026).
- Ada and Canyon counties now total roughly 877,000 residents — more than 20% growth since the 2020 Census (COMPASS, 2026 estimates).
- Major employers including Micron and Meta are expanding in the valley, adding high-wage jobs and reinforcing long-term commercial demand.
- Sustained in-migration, limited new supply, and a tightening 2023 zoning code continue to constrain well-located infill space.

LIFE ON THE BOISE RIVER

The Boise River Greenbelt is the spine of the city — a tree-lined ribbon of path that carries runners, cyclists, and commuters past parks, the university, and downtown. Floating the river in summer, walking to Julia Davis Park, or biking to the Grove for the Saturday market are everyday amenities here. A commercial address with direct Greenbelt frontage borrows all of that energy and foot traffic.

UNIVERSITY & DOWNTOWN ENERGY

Boise State University and Albertsons Stadium sit just up Park Blvd, drawing students, faculty, game-day crowds, and year-round events within a half-mile. Downtown Boise — the Grove Plaza, BoDo, Boise Centre, the cultural district, and a deep restaurant scene — is a five-minute drive. The result is a location that pairs neighborhood stability with constant daytime activity.

A GROWTH STORY THAT KEEPS COMPOUNDING

Boise has gone from a small mountain city to one of the fastest-growing metros in the United States, fueled by in-migration and major employers expanding in the valley. For a buyer, 1017 Park Blvd offers a rare combination: an already-improved, income-capable building on the river, in the path of that growth, with no ground-up entitlement gauntlet required.
