INVESTMENT HIGHLIGHTS

Two Buildings, Two Uses Building 1 (1,590 SF) houses the restaurant; Building 2 (1,590 SF) contains multi-purpose rooms well suited to private dining, events, catering prep, a studio or wellness use, offices, or supplemental rental income to offset the owner-user's occupancy cost.

Private Interior Courtyard a genuinely scarce amenity in Kailua town. The courtyard supports al fresco dining, private events and weddings, or expanded seating capacity - an experiential draw that is difficult to replicate in the submarket's typical inline retail space.

Fee Simple Ownership in a market where a meaningful share of Oahu commercial property trades leasehold, fee simple title removes lease rent renegotiation and reversion risk and gives an owner-user permanent control of their location.

B-2 Community Business Zoning one of Honolulu's broader commercial classifications, permitting a wide range of retail, restaurant, service, and office uses — supporting both the current use and future repositioning.

Prime Kailua Town Location Hoolai Street sits one block off Kailua Road, within walking distance of the town's principal retail anchors and Kailua District Park, and roughly a mile from Kailua Beach Park. The location captures both affluent windward resident spending and steady visitor traffic, while sitting on a quieter side street with lower occupancy cost than the Kailua Road frontage.

LOCATION

KAILUA, HI

19 Hoolai Street sits in the heart of Kailua town, one short block off Kailua Road on a quiet commercial side street of local restaurants, offices, and neighborhood service tenants. The side-street position delivers walk-up access to the town's main retail spine at a materially lower occupancy cost than Kailua Road frontage, while the property's set-back buildings and interior courtyard give it a private, destination character that inline retail space cannot replicate. Kailua District Park is a short walk away, and Kailua Beach Park and Lanikai are roughly a mile to the east.

SPENDING POWER VS BENCHMARKS

Kailua households earn roughly 25% more than the Honolulu County median and 32% more than the state median — a discretionary spending base that supports Kailua’s dense, independent restaurant scene.

Constrained supply. Kailua’s core is effectively built out with strong community resistance to new commercial development; islandwide retail vacancy was about 6.0% in Q1 2026.
