Zoning: CMP-H

CMP-H in Denver is a Campus Healthcare district designed to support hospitals, medical offices, and related research facilities, typically allowing buildings up to 200 feet, though this varies based on proximity to residential areas. CMP-H zoned areas are often restricted to lower heights (e.g., 75 feet) when within 125 feet of a protected, lower-density residential district.

It promotes concentrated, high-intensity development with flexible site planning for urban medical campuses. This zoning encourages unified, campus-style development with integrated, flexible, and sustainable design. While primarily medical, it can also include supporting office, commercial, and residential components.
