PROPERTY OVERVIEW

3160 Garrity Way presents a rare opportunity to acquire a well-located commercial property in Richmond’s Hilltop area. The property is positioned within a prominent East Bay commercial corridor near the former Hilltop Mall site, which is planned for a large-scale mixed-use redevelopment that is expected to bring new housing, retail, and economic activity to the surrounding area.

The property benefits from convenient access to Interstate 80, Richmond Parkway, and San Pablo Avenue, providing strong regional connectivity throughout the East Bay and to the greater San Francisco Bay Area. Surrounded by established retail, service businesses, and residential neighborhoods, the location offers strong visibility and accessibility for a wide variety of commercial uses.

With the ability to occupy the property immediately upon closing, 3160 Garrity Way represents an attractive opportunity for an owner-user seeking a strategic East Bay location or an investor looking to reposition a well-located commercial asset within a transforming trade area.

RICHMOND TODAY

Richmond covers 56 square miles and has a population now estimated at over 100,000. Richmond's economy is currently undergoing a major transition from its former heavy industrial character toward more 'high tech' and light industrial companies, and new business parks accommodating light industrial and 'office/flex' land uses. Bio technology, in particular, has developed as an important new 'niche' in Richmond's growing economy. At the same time, the City's major manufacturers, such as Chevron, have continued to upgrade their Richmond facilities, making major investments to modernize and expand their facilities.

Today, Richmond is a growing maritime, industrial and residential community with a thriving and changing economy, a dynamic business environment, and a strong potential for further growth.

Home of the Rosie the Riveter/World War II Home Front National Historical Park, Richmond played a significant and nationally recognized part in the World War II Home Front. The four Richmond shipyards, with their combined 27 shipways, produced 747 ships, more than any other shipyard complex in the country. Richmond was home to 56 different war industries, more than any other city of its size in the United States. The city grew nearly overnight from 24,000 people to 100,000 people, overwhelming the available housing stock, roads, schools, businesses and community services.

The National Historical Park has the nation's largest concentration of intact World War II historic structures and sites interwoven within the city of Richmond's 1940s era historic setting which illustrate a broad spectrum of home front stories.
