STOCKPORT

A changing skyline is a clear sign of how Stockport has changed. Attracting names like Capital and Centric as they and others add to the development of the town centre, with investment on every corner. At the heart of all this change is the Old Town, with the trendy Underbanks and Marketplace's cobbled streets, being the catalyst to a lot of what's bubbling away.

Those in the know, have monitored Stockport's evolution over the last decade, but the message is spreading with National press continuing to pick up on the 'New Berlin' and the near constant stream of exciting news stories coming from the town centre. Stockport is shaking things up and both residents and businesses are taking pride again in saying they call Stockport home.

DAY IN STOCKPORT

Your typical office day in Stockport could involve a mix of work, errands, collaborations and socialising.
