TRANSPORTATION ACCESS

The BART system is the major public regional commuter transportation system in the Bay Area. BART consists of a heavy rail system connecting most major municipalities with 50 stations in four Bay Area counties. Nearly every train in BART's entire system stops at one of three Oakland CBD stops. The Tribune Tower is 1 block from the 12th Street BART Station.

AC Transit is a public transit agency that primarily serves the western portion of Alameda and Contra Costa counties in the East Bay and downtown San Francisco. The fleet is comprised of more than 600 buses that run 150 routes with more than 5,500 total stops. Daily ridership is approximately 109,000. More than a dozen AC Transit buses stop within a quarter mile of Tribune Tower.

Amtrak Capitol Corridor is a 168-mile passenger route that operates in Northern California. The route runs from Auburn to San Jose across 18 stops. It is the fourth busiest Amtrak route by ridership. The Oakland Jack London Square station is one mile south of Tribune Tower.

San Francisco Bay Ferry serves cities throughout the Bay Area with eight terminals across San Francisco, Alameda, Oakland, South San Francisco, and Vallejo. The Bay Ferry has experienced a tremendous surge in ridership and now boasts more than 2 million riders annually. Passengers can also connect to Golden Gate transit ferries in San Francisco. Jack London Square, Oakland's main ferry terminal, is one mile south of Tribune Tower.

1440 Broadway is convenient to several interstate freeways including I-980, I-880, I-580, and I-80 that provide easy access to the East Bay, South Bay, and San Francisco.

UPTOWN STATION

Uptown Station is a landmark mixed-use project in the former Sears building that was recently renovated and fully leased to Square. The building is above the 19th Street BART station and features over 355,000 square feet of Class A creative office space and over 28,000 square feet of retail and market space in an open-air environment.

THE HIVE

The Hive is a mixed-use development in the heart of Uptown that includes 100,000 square feet of commercial and retail space and 104 apartments on a site formerly occupied by car dealerships. The commercial space, half retail and half office, is fully leased to a number of tenants including Drake's Brewery.

POINTS OF INTEREST

JACK LONDON SQUARE

Named after famed author Jack London, a native Oaklander, Jack London Square is one of Oakland's oldest and most vibrant destinations. Situated along the Oakland/Alameda estuary, the waterfront allows for access to a plethora of recreational activities including kayaking, biking and strolling. Jack London Square also offers world-class dining, shopping, entertainment, and exciting events year-round.

FOX THEATRE

The Fox Oakland Theatre is a historic 2,800-seat concert hall built in 1929 that underwent a $75 million restoration in 2009. Today, the Fox Theatre operates as a popular live concert venue in Oakland's Uptown District.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Designed by renowned architect Timothy Pleuger, Oakland's Paramount Theatre is one of the finest examples of Art Deco design in the United States. The theatre now serves all the arts, including the Oakland Symphony, popular music concerts, variety shows, theatre, and movies.

LAKE MERRITT

Lake Merritt is a large heartshaped tidal lagoon in the center of Oakland that serves as the City's top recreational destination. Its 3.4 mile scenic shoreline, surrounded by gardens, parks, walking paths, and boating centers, allow visitors to enjoy the outdoors walking, jogging, biking, or out on the water.
