In 1927, 7-Eleven was founded by “Uncle Johnny” Jefferson Green in Dallas, Texas and became the world’s first convenience store. Since its beginning, 7-Eleven has maintained a legacy of innovation and continuously pursues ways to cater to new generations of shoppers. Today, 7-Eleven is a global company that operates, franchises, and licenses 84,500 stores in 19 countries across the globe. Seven & I Holdings Co., Ltd., was founded on September 1, 2005 and is headquartered in Tokyo, Japan. In 2005, 7-Eleven, Inc. was made a wholly owned subsidiary of Seven & I Holdings. Currently, Seven & I Holdings operates more than 85,000 convenience stores, superstores, department stores, specialty stores, and financial services firms in 18 countries across the world. These include 7-Eleven, Seven Bank, Sogo & Seibu, Ito-Yokado, The Loft Co., and various others. These stores see approximately 64 million customers per day.

Speedway is a U.S.-based convenience store and fuel station chain founded in 1952. The original Speedway 79 gasoline chain was established in Michigan. The concept was somewhat different from traditional service stations of the era: the early locations focused primarily on selling gasoline along with convenience items such as cigarettes and soft drinks, earning them the nickname “Smokes and Cokes.” The “79” referred to the 79-octane gasoline being sold at the time. In 1959, the Ohio Oil Company, which later became Marathon Oil, acquired Speedway 79 along with approximately 680 service stations operated by the Aurora Gasoline Company. The Speedway name was temporarily retired in 1962 when the locations were converted to the Marathon brand.

The Speedway brand as it is known today re-emerged in 1975, when Marathon began using the name for higher-volume, self-service gasoline stations combined with convenience stores. The strategy was designed to take advantage of the growing popularity of self-service fueling while giving customers a faster, more convenient shopping experience. Speedway became known for its fuel, convenience-store merchandise, Speedy Café food and beverages, and customer loyalty program, and it expanded substantially through acquisitions of regional fuel and convenience-store chains. Originally part of Marathon Petroleum, Speedway was acquired by Seven & I Holdings, the parent company of 7-Eleven, in 2021 for $21 Billion. Speedway ranks among the largest convenience store chains in the country, focusing on high-volume self-service stations and integrated retail operations.

Headquartered in Irving, Texas, Speedway is a top-tier national convenience store and gas station tenant corporately guaranteed by 7-Eleven, Inc. with more than 3,900 locations across 36 states, offering gasoline, diesel, and a wide range of convenience products.
