DESCRIPTION

Buspace Studios W10 is a creative building brimming with West London music, art, fashion and cultural heritage.

Buspace Studios began life as a bus garage in 1910 and operated until 1981. Its thoughtful conversion retains the charm and character of its industrial roots, blending heritage with functionality. Today, the same creative buzz remains, with an eclectic mix of residents including recording artists, painters, architects, fashion retailers, and design agencies. Spread over three floors, Buspace Studios offers a rare combination of history, creativity, and adaptable workspace in West London.
