

June '25

News from Strathclyde Business Park

Hello,

Welcome to the first edition of our Strathclyde Business Park newsletter — a dedicated update on the people, projects, and progress shaping the park. From business milestones and new occupiers to community stories and key developments.

This newsletter brings together the latest updates, business highlights, and local insights from across the park, all in one place.

Thanks for joining us — there's plenty more to come from around the park.

New Community Manager

We're excited to welcome Kierian as our Community Engagement Manager for the park. With a passion for building connections and a strong commitment to community-driven initiatives, Kierian will be working closely with businesses and visitors to the park to create inclusive, engaging experiences in our park.

SBP's Commitment to Pollinators

Strathclyde Business Park has introduced four beehives, housing up to 500,000 bees, as part of its commitment to sustainability and environmental stewardship.

Welcoming Smile Café

Glasgow's Smile Café, an Italian-style eatery, has opened a new branch at Strathclyde Business Park, offering its popular culinary charm to professionals and local residents with options for sit-in and takeaway.

MossFrame Workshop

PlantMama led a MossFrame Workshop at Hilton Strathclyde Business Park this month, aiming to help professionals de-stress and connect with nature by creating living art. The unconventional business park location was a deliberate choice for the botanical studio.

June '25

News from Strathclyde Business Park

Hello,

Welcome to the first edition of our Strathclyde Business Park newsletter — a dedicated update on the people, projects, and progress shaping the park. From business milestones and new occupiers to community stories and key developments.

This newsletter brings together the latest updates, business highlights, and local insights from across the park, all in one place.

Thanks for joining us — there's plenty more to come from around the park.

New Community Manager

We're excited to welcome Kierian as our Community Engagement Manager for the park. With a passion for building connections and a strong commitment to community-driven initiatives, Kierian will be working closely with businesses and visitors to the park to create inclusive, engaging experiences in our park.

SBP's Commitment to Pollinators

Strathclyde Business Park has introduced four beehives, housing up to 500,000 bees, as part of its commitment to sustainability and environmental stewardship.

Welcoming Smile Café

Glasgow's Smile Café, an Italian-style eatery, has opened a new branch at Strathclyde Business Park, offering its popular culinary charm to professionals and local residents with options for sit-in and takeaway.

MossFrame Workshop

PlantMama led a MossFrame Workshop at Hilton Strathclyde Business Park this month, aiming to help professionals de-stress and connect with nature by creating living art. The unconventional business park location was a deliberate choice for the botanical studio.

