RENO, NEVADA

Located in Northern Nevada, Reno has built one of the country's most closely watched industrial markets on a simple advantage: direct interstate access to the entire western U.S. I-80 connects the region coast to coast, while I-580/US-395 runs north-south, putting occupiers within a day's drive of major West Coast population centers. That connectivity, paired with a business-friendly tax structure and a fast-growing labor pool, has drawn trusted names in logistics, manufacturing, and e-commerce.

Reno pairs big-city amenities with year-round outdoor adventure — Lake Tahoe, the Sierra Nevada, and the Truckee River are all within a short drive, offering year-round skiing, hiking, boating, and fishing.

NORTH VALLEYS SUBMARKET

North Valleys has emerged as one of Reno's strongest industrial corridors, anchored by direct frontage on US-395 and easy reach to I-80, roughly 10-15 minutes north of downtown Reno/Sparks.

The submarket has attracted a deep bench of national tenants — including SupplyHouse.com, Tempur Sealy, Electrolux, and Mary Kay — drawn to its combination of large, modern distribution product and proximity to a growing residential workforce base.
