AREA OVERVIEW

Gainesville is centrally located (midway between the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean) between the three major Florida cities of Jacksonville, Orlando and Tampa. Situated at the heart of North Central Florida, the city of Gainesville serves as one of Florida's major centers of culture, education, medicine, sports and commerce. Gainesville is home to Florida's largest and oldest university, the University of Florida, as well as Santa Fe College, City College, UF Health and North Florida Regional Medical Center. Gainesville has frequently been recognized as one of the nation's "best cities to live in" due to its unique intersection of urban life with surrounding abundance of natural parks, springs, lakes and untouched landscapes. The climate consists of mild winters and warm summers, with an average of 28,000 hours of sunshine annually. The average high temperature in June is 89°F, while the average high in January is 65°F and we have a 255-day growing season.
