Zone 8: Gulfgate

The property is not in, but adjacent to, the Glenbrook Valley Historic District. This property may also have development limitations due to its being in the vicinity of William P. Hobby Airport

Formed in 1995 under Houston City Council Ordinance No. 95-1319, TIRZ 8 was created to lead the redevelopment of the Gulfgate Mall site and its surrounding commercial corridors.

In 1999, the Zone expanded to include nearby neighborhoods that needed infrastructure upgrades and reinvestment. Since then, the Authority has coordinated and financed dozens of improvement projects – from major roadway reconstruction to park revitalizations and drainage enhancements – transforming Gulfgate into a district defined by accessibility, safety, and growth.

They continue to focus on improving public infrastructure, fostering equitable housing, and strengthening economic vitality for the community.
